OLD MEMPHIS REDIVIVUS.

GRAND POLITICAL DISPLAY.

A SPLENDID ILLUMINATION.

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS IN LINE.

BANNERS, FLAGS & MOTTOES.

10,000 CLUBMEN MARSHALED.

OLD TIME EFFORTS ECLIPSED.

30,000 SPECTATORS LOOK ON.

Memphis has never witnessed anything at all to comoare with the display of Saturday night. In vain will the oldest inhabitant rack his brain for a precedent, and the student of political history seek for a parallel. Memphis has eclipsed herself, and, for the first time in her history—indeed in the history of Tennessee—has shown what unity and patriotic effort may accomplish towards the grandest and most sublime moral effects.

The enthusiasm of the people—of men, women and children—culminated on this occasion. All were jubilant, all good humored, orderly and well behaved, as well those who participated as those who were the spectators, of this grand occasion.

All along Second and Main streets, Winchester at the north, and Trezevant and Shelby streets at the South, far as the eye could reach, a dense and closely packed mass of people lined the sidewalks, filled the galleries and crowded the awnings. Fair women and brave men, old and young, rich and poor, white and black of our population were out. Every class participated and all acquitted themselves nobly and as became an intelligent and law-abiding people. Incidents and a mishap or two, such as are inseparable from great gatherings and kindred excitements, are reported, but nothing that could be construed into marring the generally pleasant and agreeable features of the night.

The ladies, without whose presence even so grand a concourse and procession of men would seem but a poor affair and could scarcely be called brilliant,—they were everywhere in large numbers, elegant in toilets and radiant in beauty, leading the throng in enthusiastic cheers and demonstrations of rejoicing.

GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

At an early hour in the evening, the business houses closed their doors and began preparations for the grand event. Flags and banners and transparencies were hurriedly thrown out and put in place, and gas jets and candle-holders, to await the decline of day, when forth there blazed along the streets, especially Main, such an illumination as is almost beyond description. Chinese lanterns of every shape and device, generally composed of the national colors, transparencies of singular beauty and appropriately mottoed, made up, with the simple and sometimes beautiful illumination of the windows, a rare and gorgeous spectacle. No vision of fairy land nor Eastern fable could surpass it in brilliancy, nor match it in detail. Lightsome as sunlight, beautiful as poets dream was the coup d'oeil as seen from the corner of Jefferson and Main streets, looking either way. Whatever could add to the general effect and appear striking, was to be seen on and in the houses of our Democratic merchants and trades people, blending into one mingled stream of living fire, resplendently shining forth through the emblem of freedom, "our starry flag."

About 7 o'clock the Clubs began to muster at their respective rendezvous. Drums and trumpets, the clatter of horsemen, resounded on the quiet air, and recalled stirring memories of the early days of the war, when Memphis, yet young in tribulation and without the great sorrows that afterward overtook her, reveled in the pleasing holiday spectacles of military parades, as innocent of powder as the gathering of last night. How the heart leaped as thought trapped after thought, recalling those stirring days, and the dead men that once enlivened political gatherings with their cheers, and lent the charms of their eloquence to enforce the creed and sentiment of party. The years that have intervened since Memphis put on the robes of political honor and wreathed herself in gala smiles are burdened with sorrow—have been years of trial, of endurance, of triumph only in hope. The war intervened and blotted out all recollection of Presidential contests and all interest in all but one contest—that for independence. From the reality of an independence that lasted only as long as Lee's and Johnson's armies, we passed to subjugation, to military tyranny, and finally under negro governments. Groaning yet under the infamous tyrannies thus inflicted upon us, we have pledged ourselves to our Northern brethren to labor in the great work of the Democratic party—the removal of our disabilities and the prevention of the establishment of an empire under Grant and Colfax. Since we entered into that compact on the 4th of July last, clubs have been established, and the working machinery of a State organization been set in motion. We have had all manner of club demonstrations, and speeches of all kinds and descriptions, some in and some out of place, some that ought not to have been made, and many that will bear repetition. The leaders and the struggling great men have inundated us with explications and explanations of Democratic doctrine and generally we have had every sort of display, but the grand, magnificent and glorious outburst of last night which, as seen from the corner of Jefferson and Main, near the APPEAL office, was the culmination of all the efforts of our party.

Gen. Forrest and his Marshals, Col. Moses White, Col. Irving Halsey, Col. M. Magevney, Capt. F. L. Hamlin, Capt. J. W. Cochran, Capt. George Mellersh, and Mr. Edward Anderson, were on the ground with military precision, and by their promptness and quickness of movement, soon inspired order out of the chaos incident to formation. Precisely at 8 o'clock the column was on the march up second street to Winchester, through Winchester to Main, down Main to Trezevant, through Trezevant to Shelby, up Shelby to the stand between Monroe and Madison, on the bluff.

The following is the order of procession, and the salient and leading features of the city and county clubs, to whom praise beyond measure is due for their untiring efforts and the patriotic ardor that dictated so much in illustration and motto that was new, fresh and stirring, for the grandest political success in the history of Tennessee:

THE COLUMN

was headed by six policemen in full uniform, who marched three on either side and cleared the path for the procession, at the head of which, in an omnibus, was the

under the leadership of the veteran Smith, surpassing even its old prestige—its clarion notes, swelling upon the summer air, and making the blood tingle and thrill through the veins of the vast and countless thousands who heard the sonorous metal breathing martial sounds. Next to the band came the CAR OF LIBERTY.

This was a platform raised upon a framework on wheels, surmounted with seats arranged in pyramidal form, and the whole covered with drapery of red-white-and-blue tulle, spangled with stars. In front of the car was a locomotive lantern shedding a most brilliant light. On the seats, ranged around a sort of central throne, were thirty-six young ladies, representing the several States as follows:

TENNESSEE	Nellie Smith
INDIANA	Ida Armstrong
TEXAS	Anna Lumpkin
PENNSYLVANIA	Hattie Collins
VIRGINIA	Nora Mabie
ALABAMA	Cora Ashe
CALIFORNIA	Kate Poston
NEBRASKA	Maggie Ashe
KANSAS	Ida Smith
WISCONSIN	Sora Bell Avery
MISSISSIPPI	Stella Specht
NEW YORK	Kate Kirk
GEORGIA	Mollie Taylor
MARYLAND	Knoxie Pickett
LOUISIANA	Emma Word
DELAWARE	Jennie Specht
KENTUCKY	Lady Bachus
ARKANSAS	Minnie Fuller
NORTH CAROLINA	Lillie Ballentine
NEW HAMPSHIRE	Clara Smith
OHIO	Eloise McPherson
SOUTH CAROLINA	Ida Morgan
FLORIDA	Mattie McEWEN
MISSOURI	Edna Morgan
NEW JERSEY	Gula Delanock
WEST VIRGINIA	Sallie Owen
VERMONT	Annie Pickett
ILLINOIS	Willie Smith
MICHIGAN	Emma Mitchell
IOWA	Lillie Wray
MAINE	Lida Specht
OREGON	Fannie Johnson
MINNESOTA	Mary Belle Childs
CONNECTICUT	Henry Childs
MASSACHUSETTS	Camelia McPherson
RHODE ISLAND	Camelia McPherson

On the throne, surrounded by the young ladies above mentioned, and representing the Goddess of Libberty, was Miss Katie Ware Harris, who looked a very diva. Surrounded and followed, as beauty was even in the knightly days of old, and even in our own chivalric times, by an escort of the Blair Knights, the car moved forward amid a blaze of pyrotechnic splendor, which burst forth from a hundred different directions as the cortege filed slowly by. A long line of knights, dressed in plain black pants and white shirts, and superbly mounted, carrying a hundred torches, filed after the car, the whole under command of Maj. Phil Allen. After them came a large wagon upon which was a platform, on which was the

the beautiful and intricate machinery of which was in full motion during the whole procession, making, bottling and corking bottles of soda water, which were dispensed liberally to all who asked for it. Following this was the

PROCESSION OF THE PURIM.

In a chariot drawn by four gray horses and escorted by four Blair Knights, were four beautiful little Hebrew maidens, representing the mothers of Israel, Rachel, Leah, Miriam and Deborah. The carriage was tastefully decorated with flowers and lanterns and presented a fairylike appearance. Following the mothers of Israel was a canopy of evergreens, borne by four negroes, under it rode on horseback a Hebrew boy and girl, representing the King Ahaz and Queen Esther. On the front of the canopy were the words, in Hebrew and English, "Another Haman Found." Behind this, and as an escort, came a troupe of Jewish boys, dressed in spotless white, with mitres and breastplates, representing Levites. Following them was a transparency on a hand-wagon, representing a gallows, with Grant hanging on it, and the legend, also, "another Haman found." Close following these, with their beautiful banner, which has already been described in the APPEAL, was the

BLUFF CITY DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

These gentlemen turned out in force, having seventy five torches and six transparencies in the line. One of the transparencies was a cheese-box, with the ends knocked out; astraddle of it was a "jumping jack" figure, worked with a string, and at the end was the simple word "Grant." Next came the

FIRST WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB,

In the van of which was a huge pair of log wheels, twenty feet in diameter, drawn by six horses. Mounted on them was a triangular transparency with the simple and effective motto, "Seymour and Blair." One hundred and fifty-four torches were borne in the line, and six transparencies. The most ludicrous of the latter was one representing a "carpet-bagger on November 6,"—a lean and hungry-looking individual with a carpet sack, making a "straight shirt tail" for up Salt creek. This club was headed by the West Indian colored Conservative band. After the First Ward Club came two wagons, bearing transparencies, "Seymour and Blair." Close following these in the line came the headed by their colored band, who were doing brave service on their drums and flies. At the head of the line, between it and the band, was a wagon, handsomely decked off, on which was for a design a huge game cock. On top of the transparency, chained to his place, was a live coon—"the same old coon." One of the features of the procession followed the club—the

in a boat, square or barque rigged, and drawn by four horses, the rigging lighted up with Chinese lanterns, the whole making a brilliant and beautiful display. On the side of the boat was the motto, "Leftwich for Congress!" Following this band came the bearing a beautiful banner, representing the white and black man shaking hands. About fifty lights were carried by them, and the body was marshaled by the veteran and portly Sam Croghan, who was gorgeously attired in grand regalia of silk and satin. Next in order, led by Tobin's 7th Ward (colored) band, came the

which bore three transparencies and sixty torches, making a fine, though not quite so numerous a display as some other clubs. After the 4th Ward came the

MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

This, though the youngest club in the line, was second to none in point of numbers, or in the looks and accoutrements of the men. It was headed by a wagon bearing a transparency, on one side of which was a locomotive labelled "Seymour and Blair," coming at full speed, with the motto, "Clear the track!" and on the other was Grant trying to ride a mule, which has become vicious, and is kicking and plunging, with the motto, "Let us have peace." In front of the wagon was a locomotive head light which shed a light over the whole line in front. They bore one hundred and fifty-five torches in the line and even transparencies.

The wagon of Messrs. O. F. Prescott & Co., brilliantly lighten up with coal oil arrangements, and covered with patriotic mottoes, followed next; and after it French John followed in a wagon, in which was a furnace with a fire in it, at which John stood cooking. Over the furnace was a transparency representing Barbour Lewis reaching for an omlette—marked "$400,000." The devil has him by the shoulder, and says "look out brother, you will burn your fingers." To which the immaculate replies, "Just one more grab, master." Next came the headed by its beautiful banner, which, like the one of which we formerly spoke, has already been described in the APPEAL. On the front is a portrait of Seymour, with the motto "Peace." The legend is, "The fame of the conqueror is the scourge of mankind." On the reverse is, "In the bright lexicon of youth there is no such word as fail." There were a hundred and sixty torches borne in this band, each of which was unique and beautiful, the flame being sheltered from the wind by a glass shade. Following these came a mounted on a platform on wheels, and kept at work printing the following card, which was being distributed by thousands on the line of march:

"White House, Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., cheap boarding for the million. The spoons and silverware under the charge of an honest 'Butler,'"

Close following the printing press came the numbering over two hundred torches in the line, and all of them borne by sturdy yeomen. They were accompanied by the Fifth Ward Colored Democratic Band, who were untiring in their efforts to make "music for the million." Immediately following the band, and at the head of the club, was a car representing the temple of the Union, a beautiful kiosk of red, white, and blue, spangled with stars and trimmed with gold and flowers, the pinnacle being surmounted with a double reflecting lantern. At the head of the wagon was a locomotive reflecter, and in the kiosk, dressed in white, spangled with stars, and draped gracefully with the American flag, was a beautiful girl, Miss Mollie Carrol, representing the Goddess of Liberty. At the four corners of the platform were four young ladies, Misses Turner, Reed, Carrol and Kiley, also dressed in white.

Following the Fifth Ward Club was Joe Seligman's "turnout," carrying the "great and good" Larry Harmstad, and after it was a wagon full of "carpet-baggers," not the least life-like among whom was "little Jimmy Sullivan." The Fifth Ward Colored Democracy, carrying fifty lights, came next, and they were followed by R. G. Mathews reaping and mowing machine, handsomely decorated and illuminated. Jelueo's Italian string band followed, leading the van of the who, headed by their banner, now so well known in Memphis, and displaying three hundred torches, made decidedly the best appearance of any dismounted club. A large transparency carried by them bore the simple legend "Constitutional Liberty." A platform bearing an anvil, forge, and other paraphernalia, followed next—being the "shop" of Schultz, the safe manufacturer. Several very appropriate mottoes were displayed by him, among them—"No Tax on Industry;" "Safes against Scalawags, Locks against Rogues." Another great feature of the evening, and one that elicited universal cheering and many floral testimonials from fair hands on the balconies and at windows, next approached. It was a wagon trimmed and completely arched over with evergreens and flowers, the most beautiful and costly that could be procured; in this were seated twelve soldiers, six Federal and six Confederate, in full uniform. A large square transparency was in the wagon, on which were bisoned, "United we stand, divided we fall." "Democracy is just," and other mottoes which we could not see. A wagon bearing a revolving sun, of peculiar workmanship, which we are sure is the same that we once saw operated at Charlie Broome's, the invention of C. W. Gulick, Esq., the scenic artist. It was magnificent, and eclipsed anything of the sort we ever saw.

MAYOR LEETWICH'S CARRIAGE

came next. In it were his children, with their pid negro nurse, bearing a taanaparency with the motto, "Radicalism can't port us from our mammy."

A COFFIN,

came next, borne by four colored men in deep mourning, with crape on their hats a yard long. The motto on this was "The end of Radicalism." Following the mourners were a band of colored men with picks and spades—"a burial corps."

THE GREENWOOD CLUB

came next with a banner bearing portraits of Seymour and Blair, with the inscription "a statesman and a soldier." One hundred and fifty torches were in this line, with many beautiful transparencies. Next came the led by the Tenth ward colored band. A hundred and fifty lights were borne by this club. On their banner was inscribed "Union and Peace," and several transparencies were very fine—one especially, representing Grant riding a black hobby horse with a negro's head, with the motto "Grant's Hobby."

TENTH WARD CLUB NO. 2

followed with sixty lights and several transparencies, and they were followed by

in a boat, square rigged, on wheels, which made a unique and beautiful display. Their transparencies were painted on Chinese lanters and were all apropos and witty.

THE BUTCHER'S CLUB,

mounted on splendid horses, came next. Following the DeSoto Club boat was a negro riding on a mule, bearing a transparency representing a plethoric carpet-bag, filled to overflowing with county bonds, with the motto, "Follow me my beloved." After him came another negro, riding a lame mule, with a transparency representing a bundle on the end of a stick, and with the motto, "We have followed you too long, brother Lewis." The members of this club, were dressed in black, with white aprons and wearing plug hats. They made decidedly a splendid show.

Another mounted band of

led by Col. J. J. Dubose, came after the butchers' club, and these were followed by the bearing about one hundred and twenty-five lights. In their line was a full rigged ship, in which were about twenty persons. The motto was "Constitution and Liberty." They were led by the Ninth Ward, (Chelsea,) colored Democratic band. After these came the

with some thirty wagons, bearing chaldrons of burning tar, blocks, paving implements, and one wagon representing the laying of a section of pavement. This club made a fine display, and was no unimportant part of the grand procession, which the ice wagons of with two or three omnibuses, brought to a close—the grandest, most imposing and magnificent spectacle ever seen in Memphis.

ILLUMINATIONS, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE.

On the corner of Main and Winchester streets a bonfire was kept up until a late hour, as also on the corner of Main and Market streets, and at several other points along the route. Taking our course down Main street, No. 4 engine house first attracted our attention. It is also the headquarters of the First ward Democratic club, and was brilliantly illuminated, with an immense flag extending across the street. Next came J. O'Connor's liquor house, and the drug store of A. Renkert, both of which looked well. Prof. Robertson's college, near by, was also quite attractive. The Overton Hotel displayed a handsome flag and was lighted up from one end of its long balcony to the other with jets of gas. Auman & Stuart's dry goods house and Joe Walter's drug store were illuminated, as well also Lunn & Mallon's. W. H. Wheaton's, Forster Kealhofer & Co., J. W. Thompsons and the wholesale boot and shoe house of Goodbar & Gilliland. This house displayed lights from each of the four stories of their building. B. Rocco, confectioner, on the corner of Main and Adams, must not be forgotton,—the photographic gallery nearly opposite, nor the drug house of C. C. Ward & Bro., which was finely set off with candles, lanterns, etc. Next in order came Wm. Miller's boot and shoe house, and Sproule & McCowan's clothing house. M. Kraus & Co., and Lyons & Files, both dry goods houses, were tastefully fitted out with lanterns, etc., as was the furniture house of McKinney, Bryson & Co. Walker Bros. & Co. had their immense store in the Clay Buildings beautifully decorated with lights and colored transparencies, and to our mind the display made by this house was second to none in the city. The headquarters of the Petro Oil Company varied the scene by embellishing their windows with many colored paper. Hesse, Levy & Co. were also well lit up. On the corner of Main and Jefferson, the handsome cigar store of J. H. Schiff attracted much attention, while on the southwest corner of the same streets the enterprising firm of B. Lowentein & Bros. was viewed with admiration by the thousands who passed and repassed during the evening. Mrs. M. C. Hunter, as well as Mrs. L. Kremer, were not chary with their illuminations, but had their respective stores tastefully arrayed with lights. At the drug store of G. W. Jones, parti colored lights were kept burning during the evening, lighting up the square and street beautifully. J. O. Ford & Co. had lanterns hung in festoons across the front of their saddlery house and next door. A. Seesel & Son made a very good display. On the awning was resting a large transparency having on one side the following:

"May the cotton cease to grow,
May the river cease to flow,
May the sugar cease to yield
Until the Democracy win the field."

The other side also bore an inscription, but an immense wave of living beings swept us along too rapidly to make further notes. Next came the well-known clothing house of Robinson, Sneed & Co., which besides being decorated with lanterns, bore a transparency inscribed with the names of the people's candidates and underneath "Unity to a divided Nation. Freedom to an oppressed people." Menken Bros.' fine stor was resplendnt with light, and upon one side of a transparency we read the words, "We Grant no credit but want to See-more cash." Pooley & Barnum and Wells & Coll, our friend Leidy, of the Memphis Hat Company, Wallace & Gibson, J. C. Ward, J. T. Hamilton & Co., Miss Perdue—in fact all the houses in the block were bright as at midday. Leubrie, the great cigar dealer, George Bergman, who also disposes of the weed in every style, from finecut to the finest Havana, were trying to see how much gas they could consume. Cornnie, of the "House that Jack Built," caused his handsome little news depot to laugh with glee at the gala dress assumed for the occasion. Here there was a jump of several houses, none of which were lit except the agency of R. G. Dunn & Co. and the law office of Brown & Lyles. Mansfield & Higbee had their fine, large drug house open and hung with lanterns, which enveloped the gas jets. The Ice House, Clark's Risk & Johnson, L. Roco & Co., J. C. Holt & Co., Geo. Patterson & Co., and L. Newburger & Bro., were noticeable. The dry good house of Rice, Stix & Co., the crockery house of Lloyd, Clark & Co., the dry goods house of Howell, Wood & Co., and the house of Geo. H. Blood & Co., were very attractive in their display. At Mrs. M. L. Rodners several flags were extended over the sidewalk. J. S. Leavett & Co., of the well-known shoe house, had their handsome front finely and tastefully set off. The Fashion saloon vied with its neighbors in the way of light. Moores, Smith & Co., J. W. Voegeli, Tobin, Lynn & Co., G. W. Falls & Co., and the Southern Hotel, were very finely illuminated. Here we left Main street and pursued our way to Shelby street, where we found the business houses of Mr. Ould, Mrs. Keeley, John Noni, Mrs. Yaeger and Thos. Shendan, dressed all out in light. F. & C. Heckie & Co., the Rialto, G. A. Eckerly, J. Trabuco, L. Bertoletti, the Shelby House, Greentree House and Moore & Whitfield, were all finely lighted up. On Front street at the late hour we reached it, the houses of A. Vaccaro & Co., Sutton & Mann, Orgill, Bros. & Co., Clarke, Ely & Co., Edmonds & Todd, R. Brannon, T. L. Martin and O. A. Kraus, were shedding forth rays of light. Many others who had lighted up very early in the evening we omit, owing to the lateness of the hour. On Howard's Row, Banksmith Humphrey & Co. were effulgent. On the streets running from the river we noticed many very fine displays. The St. Cloud Hotel, on Union street; the Central and Goodall houses, on Adams street; the Grey Eagle Restaurant, Bond & Jones and J. Specht, on Madison street, and the Empire Saloon, No. 18, Jefferson street, are all worthy of especial mention. On Second street we can only call to mind the Lehner house, the cotton house of Fowlke & Steffey, and the Dancing Academy of Mad. Leise, as having attracted our attention. Private residences without number were illuminated, and vied with the more pretentious buildings on our prominent streets, in the hale which they threw out amid the darkness of the night, but we must omit notice of them. We, however, would do injustice were we not to mention the residences of Mr. George L. Grayser, on the corner of Second and Market, and that of Col. A. H. Douglas, on Shelby street, which were cheered vociferously by the procession.

The newspaper offices were ablaze with light, but by far the most elaborate display was made by the APPEAL, which, in connection with rockets, Roman candles and blue lights, illuminated windows, and the star spangled banner, etc., had a large transparency inscribed with the names of Seymour and Blair upon the roof of the composing room.

ON THE BLUFF.

The head of the immense crowd arrived at the speaker's stand, upon the bluff, while the end of the procession had yet some three miles to march. Those who felt so disposed, awaited to hear the speeches which were expected, but by far the greater number retired to their homes, feeling that words, no matter how eloquent, facts, no matter how elegantly clothed, or however potent, could wield the same force or produce the effect which the outpouring of the people must have had upon those in our midst who would keep us in subjection and deprive us of those rights which are, in all the civilized world, conceded to be inalienable. Thinking ourselves that on an occasion such as the one last night, speeches were out of place—were rather an affliction than otherwise, we omit any mention of them.

INCIDENTS.

The only lamentable incident connected with the turnout last evening was the malicious shooting of a member of the 9th Ward Club, as that body was marching to the rendevous. The shooting was without provocation, and was done by a black or white Radical standing on the sidewalk near the corner of Fifth and Mill streets. The wounded man was shot in the right side, but it is hoped the wound will not prove mortal.

A colored man was shot and another stabbed last night on Beal street, near the market.

BUCKEYE SALVE

CURE OF EVERY FORM

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure

Silver and golden anklets for ladies are about to become fashionable. They will be worn outside the stockings.

The citizens of Chattanooga have at length secured a good bridge over the Chattanooga creek.

The New York Mercantile Library reopened on the 3d inst. There are now 95,593 volumes and 10,718 members.

Gov. T. H. Seymour's last conscious words were to his own immediate family: "We are all together."

Rochefort, the La Lanterne man of Paris, talks of coming to this country until the storm about his head has blown over.

A. D. Banks, formerly one of the editors of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is now an Alabama sugar planter, having married a woman of fortune in that State.

A fast Turk broke the Baden-Baden bank nine times in succession, recently. He is the most desperate gambler Germany has seen for years.

Sophie Worrell, one of the well-known Worrell sisters, fell in a fit the other evening, while playing "La Belle Helene," at Troy. She speedily recovered, and the play went on.

Mr. Robert Browning has a new poem, on an Italian subject, to be published this year. It is said that "it will be one of the longest poems in the language."

A popular edition of Longfellow's poems, illustrated by John Gilbert, with an illuminated border, is to be published by Ticknor & Fields the present month.

Lynn shipped 35 800 cases of shoes during the past six months, slightly in excess of last year's shipment. The total number of pairs in this immense pile would be about 2,748,000, and the aggregate value $2,861,000.

The Catholic Bishop of Montreal has forbidden his people to attend theaters where the "immoral and indecent" plays of "La Grande Duchesse," "La Belle Helene," etc., are performed.

The telegraph office at Nashville has been provided with a set of "Hicks' instruments." The Hicks automatic repeater is said to be one of the most valuable improvements in modern telegraphy.

The Boston Journal of Chemistry has a long article on "Planchette," in which the editor expresses the belief "that there is one power, impulse, or force in nature, regarding the character of which mankind are totally in the dark."

On Thursday night last, in Nashville, W. S. Beach, Esq., of Alabama, was married to Miss Emma Torbett, daughter of Col. Torbett, formerly an editor and one of the proprietors of the old Union and American. The Rev. Dr. Baird officiated.

Last Wednesday, while William Ferguson, an old citizen of Nashville, was handling carefully a Colt's repeater, it exploded, wounding him in such a manner that he died, adding another to the interminable list of victims to carelessness in handling firearms.

Steam plowing, in California, promises to be a success. The machine is their own invention. It cuts furrows nine feet wide, and from five to eight inches deep, pulverizing fine, travels six miles an hour, and weighs only seven tons.

Manufactures are reviving at the South. The cotton factory in Fredericksburg, Va., commenced operations again last week, and the Briarfield iron works, at Selma, Ala., are daily turning out large quantities of cotton ties and bar iron of excellent quality.

J. S. Redfield, New York, is soon to issue a reprint of the recent sarcastic article in the London Saturday Review, on woman. The title of the volume is to be "Modern Women and What is Said of Them," and a preface is to be contributed by Mrs. Lucia Gilbert Calhoun.

Young Dumas threatens to dissect artistic and literary life in Paris, as he has already shown up social life in the preface to a collected edition of his theatrical writings. It is said he proposes to point a moral on the fact that his father, after forty years of labor, is not in circumstances to cease work.

The total number of paupers supported during the year 1867 by the city of New York, was 40,964. The daily cost of maintaining them averaged twenty-three cents. There were also 13,071 of the out-door poor supplied with coal, and $700 with money, making a grand total of 62,735, besides those relieved by private charity.

The dispatches to the government from the West continue to report quiet in Indian matters. Preparations to meet anticipated trouble are being made, and additional troops are being forwarded. Two hundred additional men have been ordered to Omaha, Nebraska, to join the Second Cavalry.

Mrs. S. L. Brennan, a widow lady residing in Helena, Arkansas, was robbed on the train, between St. Louis and Chicago, last Monday night, of $300, the proceeds of the sale of some property in Chicago, and all she possessed in the world. She was given chloroform while asleep, and the money abstracted from a pocket in an underskirt.

Judge Pierre A. Rost, of Louisiana, one of the most eminent jurists of that State, died, in New Orleans, a few days since. He was a man of extensive legal acquirements, and large culture, and universally esteemed. He was Confederate Commissioner to the Court of Spain, during the war, his first and only participation in political affairs.

A locomotive, to be used on common roads, was recently successfully exhibited in Edinburgh. It drew a train of wagons, laden with coal, and weighing 31 tons, a distance of ten miles, passing through the streets of Edinburgh. Some very crooked thoroughfares and sud sharp turnings had to be passed through, and grades of 1 in 18 and 1 in 12 had to be ascended.

A special agent reported to the Treasury Department on Friday, that nineteen hundred barrels of distilled spirits have been removed from the First Alabama Collection District, on transportation bonds that are likely to prove worthless. It appears that the whisky was never exported, but has been disposed of without paying the tax. The Government is about to institute suit against the bondsmen, without any prospect, it is said, of recovering a cent.

The semi-annual sale of books, contributed by the publishers of the United States, commenced Thursday morning, at Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New York. The attendance was very large, the trade being represented throughout the country. The catalogue embraces nearly five hundred pages, and is the largest yet offered at any sale. These works number about 1,200,000, and they will change hands in about twelve days, when this great auction will be closed, and the sale of private libraries will follow.

THE TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.

We reproduce for the many whose demands for our Sunday paper could not be satisfied, our carefully prepared report of the grand and imposing demonstration of Saturday night. It will be found on our first page.

MORAL EFFECTS.

The moral effect produced upon all classes and colors opposed to the Democratic party by the demonstration of Saturday night, should not be marred by indiscreet and hasty utterances on the part of the leaders of our party, or the would-be leaders whose indiscretions are as many as their political information is weak and their "talk vapid and frothy."

Let our readers dwell for a moment upon the pageant. In peaceful quiet array, the thousands of voting and non-voting Democrats, as they marched through our streets, entered a more potent protest against the wrongs we endure than all the utterances of the press and speakers together, since the campaign commenced. No threats, never to be fulfilled, but none the less hurtful of our cause, were uttered, nor one word that could grate harshly upon the ear of the most sensitive of our negro population. A simple, but splendid because simple, manifestation of the strength and numbers of our party, it passes to history as first in the list of all similar efforts in our State, and, if permitted by the over-anxious-to-be-leaders, will not be without fruits, such as all who are not utterly selfish, desire.

We conjure the utmost discretion of speech on the part of all Democrats, and we conjure the utmost harmony. Every man has work to do in this campaign against Radicalism; work that must be done with tongue and pen; but it were better that tongues were silent, and pens unused, than that the success of Democracy should be endangered by words, ill-considered words and heated words that may come back at us with the force of "curses coming home to roost."

In the North and Northwest, where politics have become more of a business than with us, men of the Democratic as well as Republican party are unusually discreet as to what they say or do. So much are people and politicians in these sections under self-control, that it is exceptional with them to say an indiscreet word or do an indiscreet thing, that might in after time tell against their political purposes. Every man in these sections is identified, and intimately identified, with a political party, hence all feel the importance of a "guarded tongue" that shall give no sign or utterance, no matter under what incentive, that can diminish the moral strength of the party or rob it of a vote. How is it with us of the South? No man who turns over such a list of "exchanges" as come to this office, and who is aware of the power and efficacy of editorial manipulation of party ammunition, but must confess that the strongest blows the Republican party deal us are strengthened by the speeches and letters that are spoken and written with the best disposition to serve us, go forth with names appended that we must confess have great weight with the Southern people. And not alone to the Northern people but to our enemies at home we furnish the stories with which our house may be battered, if not entirely ruined. We hope we have read the last of such documents. The magnificent demonstration of Saturday night atones for a multitude of them. It seems grander as we turn back to it. It should not be impaired. Whatever friends it has made for us, let us work to keep, and through them work for more. We want and need the aid of every voter that can be secured. We want to be free of Radicalism. Whatever of material to that end Providence has put in our way, let us use and with a becoming discretion. If upon this we are not agreed, and policy is not shaped to our liking, let us take comfort in this, that "all things work together for good with them who are of the faith." Be silent, be watchful, and beware. "Put a bridle upon thy tongue."

"THE STATE OF MAINE."

An election for State officers takes place to-day in the "State of Maine," the result of which will be looked forward to with no little anxiety by the people of the United States, as, from the result of the Vermont election the Radicals sought to make it appear they were unusually triumphant, so in the case of Maine they will, no matter what the result, try to force it upon the public that they have been signally successful. The Radical majority in that State last year was only 11,818; and should it exceed that number by even a few hundreds today, no doubt they will yell lustily and claim "a gain."

To be "forewarned is to be forearmed." The Radical majority in that State, in the presidential election of 1864, was 21,612. In the State election of 1865, it was 22,332. In 1866, it was over 27,000. From this it fell, suddenly, in 1867, to 11,818. The Chicago Times, referring to these last figures, says: "The aggregate "vote, that year, was uncommonly "light; and the indifference of Republi- "cans, to which party, as the tables "show, the greater number of absent vo- "ters belonged, was accounted for, as "the Republican press claimed, by cer- "tain social causes. It is certain that, "should one half of those who remained "away from the polls last year vote the "Democratic ticket this year, the result "would be a decisive Democratic major- "ity. No such result is anticipated.

"The Republican journals in Maine "profess to expect a Radical majority of "fifteen thousand, which will show a "Democratic gain of twelve thousand "since 1866, and of over six thousand "comparing the majority to that of 1864.

"Democratic journals, on the other "hand, represent it as probable that the "Radical majority will be reduced below "that in 1867. But so large a gain for "the Democracy in a New England "State, as such a result would show, is "more than they have had reason to an- "ticipate for a section where radical fa- "naticism has so long been a chronic "disease."

GRANT'S SHORTEST SPEECH.

The Radical papers are in ecstacies over a letter said, by them, to have been written by Gov. Seymour, in which he spoke kindly of a watermelon. True greatness recognizes merit wherever it is found, no matter how humble may be the shell in which it is inclosed. Perhaps the most striking words that ever fell from human lips, were those which Gen. Grant recently uttered in the West, when he gave his opinion on "gravy:" "I like that gravy," said he, and then subsided. What could morial say more?

"OUR" POLITICIANS.

The Devil seems to be roaming in Memphis just at this time, in the persons of lying correspondents. We no sooner "turn one down," as the phrase runs, than another makes his appearance. To-day we publish, in our local column, an extract from a maliciously and mischievously funny brochure from the correspondent of the New York Tribune, who, in an attempt to locate our "intellectual," and other politicians, brings into strange and humorous juxtaposition men of widely separated habits of life, views and attainments. Not to be profane, it is the "darndest" mess of hotchpotch that we have ever read. For broad farce, impertinent to be sure, nay impudent, it has not been excelled in an age. "Have we a joker among us?"

WHAT CONGRESS COSTS.

"The people will bear in mind that the "incidental expenses of Congress, for "the session of 1868, were seven hundred "and twenty five thousand five hundred "and eighty five dollars—more than "double what they were for the year "ending June 30, 1864. The money went "to pay political hucksters for the dis- "charge of such partisan services as sec- "retaries and messengers of committees, without business and without legitimate existence, to keep negroes in "idleness, to support a large standing "army in time of peace, to do every- "thing save restore unity, concord, and "prosperity to the nation. Are the peo- "ple willing to be taxed for such purposes?"

"COUNTING THEIR CHICKENS."

The Massachusetts Senatorship and Cabinet Appointments.

[Boston Correspondence of Chicago Tribune.]

The composition of the next Legislature in the State becomes a matter of special interest, in the contingency that it may have to elect two United States Senators. Mr. Sumner's term expires, and, as his ambition seems to tend toward no other end than continued service in the seat he has occupied so many years, he will be undoubtedly re-elected. This will leave President Grant free to exercise what would probably be his preference in giving Senator Wilson some place in his Cabinet. The contest for the vacancy thus created will be especially animated, from the fact that it will be comparatively a new question, so that popular opinion will have no time to settle into the ruts about it. If it were a fair fight within the Republican ranks in the State, your correspondent is inclined to think that Mr. Boutwell would get the place; and, on the whole, his chances entitle him to be placed at the head of the list. But with a Legislature constituted like our last one, by the admixture of the temperance question, the election of such a man would be impossible; and while the possibility of such disturbing elements exists, the list of possible candidates must be made so wide as to induce Charles Francis Adams, George B. Loring, Alexander H. Bullock, Richard H. Dana, jr., and, under some circumstances, perhaps, also, that very troublesome and frisky gentleman, Benjamin F. Butler.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

The New York Market on the 9th Inst.

The volume of business in the dry goods trade, to-day, shows a falling off among the jobbers, as compared with the first two days of the week. This has apparently affected the auction business, and the leading auctioneers to-day had only slim audiences, and many lots of goods were passed, on the catalogues. The falling off in the purchases is particularly noticeable among the Western buyers, who seem disposed to hold back, and are waiting for some decline in prices. The velvet went below the importers' figures, and a number of lines of these goods were passed. The lines of satins, plushes and ribbons, were taken very freely and at satisfactory prices, but no duplicates were offered. A few lines of gloves were duplicated, while a number of lots of the same goods were passed. The silk dress goods, linens and white goods were generally sold through, and at low figures. No duplicates were offered. Messrs. Wilmerdings & Mount had an offering of rich lace shawls, collars, handkerchiefs, etc. The attendance of buyers was small, and composed of representatives from the leading city retail houses. The whole offering was gone through—every lot taken, and at good prices.

PEACE OR WAR.

The Great Question Now Agitating Europe.

The Courier des Etats Unis, of September 2, in a leading article upon the condition of Europe, says:

What the French want, without an exception, and from their innermost heart, and even at the cost of their blood, is the reintegration of France in its natural frontiers—that is, what was taken from her by the European spoliation of 1815; that which was refused them by the surprise, not to say the trickery of Prussia in 1866; in one word, it is revenge for Waterloo and compensation for Sadowa. If the restoration is fallen it is because France wanted the Rhenish frontier and could not obtain it. If Louis Philippe fell it was because he wanted to lower France in foreign opinion, and that under the rule his Rhenish frontier was out of the question. If the republic is fallen it is because it did not know how to march resolutely on to the Rhine, and thus confound the greatness of France with its own. If the earth trembles under the foot of the empire, it is because the nation chafe and demands the Rhine; and if it arms, and if it is, as Marshal Niel states, the only European nation that is prepared for war or peace, it is because it demands the same as the nation. The Rhenish frontier—peacefully if possible, by war if necessary. Yes, the Imperial Government has a line of politics that is entirely in harmony with the French nation, and it knows well that when it abandons those principles the French people will abandon it in return, as it abandoned the Bourbons, the Orleanists and even the republic. And this is why Europe is not quiet now, because France has been the victim of great iniquity; that the iniquity still exists; that France is not inclined to be trodden upon; that she will rise some day, when she shall have found it expedient, and when once on foot, even in the face of a giant, she will not withdraw as long as a drop of blood is left in her arteries; and before this rich and abundant source is exhausted, the whole of Europe will be weak from the loss of blood. These are well known facts, and the only uncertainty is the propitious moment for the display of her pent up anger, and in which direction to let loose her dogs of war.

This is why Europe is on a volcano until France regains her Rhenish frontier. It is not because France has irreconcilable prejudices against the interest or convenience of others. She would willingly admit any modifications suggested by just susceptibilities or convenience of her neighbors. For instance, she would be satisfied instead of taking forcible possession, in which she has no material interest, to agree to the organization of a neutral line that would keep guard on her frontier and protect her security; in one word, she would be satisfied with any arrangement interposing the Rhine between her and Germany. Is this asking far too much? No; there is no disinterested power that could raise such a pretense, and, perhaps, there is not one that does not desire it.

By Telegraph.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, September 13—The in-freight depot of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, in this city, was completely destroyed by fire this afternoon, together with a large quantity of flour and wheat. The loss is estimated at from $100,000 to $123,000. Insurance not known.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 13.—In response to telegram from Secretary McCulloch of Friday last, U. S. District Attorney Courtney, of New York, arrived here this morning and was engaged with the Secretary this p m. with reference to Internal Revenue frauds and management of cases.

Mr. Courtney left to-night for New York.

Commissioner Rollins will postpone his visit to New Hampshire until it is definitely settled whether there will be an adjourned session of Congress this month.

No compromise as yet is reached between him and the Secretary of the Treasury regarding the appointment of Supervisors of Internal Revenue.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, September 13.—A double murder was committed in the woods, about three miles northwest of this city yesterday afternoon. A man named Jacob Young, and his wife, left town sometime during the afternoon, in a buggy, and were found murdered in an out of the way place this morning. Mr. Young was shot in the head with a shot gun, the whole side of his face being torn off. Mrs. Young was shot through the head with a pistol, her clothes set on fire, and her body partially burned. The whole affair is as yet shrouded in mystery, and the evidence before the Coroner's jury gives no clue to the perpetrators of the foul deed. Mr. Young was known to have had a large amount of money, variously reported at from two to seven thousand dollars, in his possession yesterday morning, and only ten dollars were found on his person this morning. His horse and buggy and a shot gun were found near the bodies.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 13.—Valparaiso papers state that Humaita was delivered to the enemy by a traitorous General. It is stated that a revolution has broken out in Paraguay, and that Lopez is dead or a fugitive.

Among the passengers from Europe to-day, are the English cricketers.

A number of diseased cattle were found in an open lot up town this morning, left there by a drover. They are to be killed by cattle commissioners.

Panama advices of the 4th inst. state that another revolution there had a bloodless end, and resulted in President Ponce being arrested and deposed by one Corresso, who proclaimed himself president and is forming a new Cabinet.

Haytien advices of the 10th, state that the siege of Port au Prince has been abandoned, as the Cocoes run out of ammunition.

An agent of Cabral was at Kingston, Jamaica, trying to raise funds to carry on the revolution in St. Domingo.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, September 13.—It is generally considered that the events of the last fortnight have made little change in the political condition on the continent, either to lessen or increase the chances of war. While on one hand the press of Germany have assumed a quieter tone, and profess to be more confident of peace, on the other hand it is known France has refused the formal demand made by Chevalier Nigra to the Italian Embassador, for the recall of the French troops from Rome, and at the same time Prince Gelgenti has brought to Paris the proposal of Spain to cement an alliance with France by sending 30,000 soldiers to Rome. This proposition, and the approaching interview which is shortly to take place at Bayonne, between Empeeor Napoleon and the Queen of Spain, are looked upon as foreshadowing an alliance, the object of which is to rid France of the care of the Holy See in case she should be plunged into war, so that by this means France, if without any other ally, could make Spain useful.

Rumors, too, that several fighting regiments have been recalled from Africa, and that Gen. Leboufe has been sent on a special mission to Germany, and that Prussia has determined to annex the Grand Duchy of Baden, add to the feeling of distrust in the permanence of the existing peace. This feeling is faithfully mirrored in Paris by the depression on Bourse, and the consequent decline of rentes, and in diplomatic circles here the situation is pithily summed up in these words: "No fear of war," though it may begin to-morrow.

Later advices have been received from Rio Janeiro. According to Brazilian reports a detachment of Paraguayan troops left behind in Gran Chaco on the evacuation of Humaita, were surrounded by the allied forces and surrendered unconditionally, with twelve pieces of artillery and all their stores. The fortifications at Humaita have been razed to the ground.

At last accounts the whole allied army commenced to march to lay seige to the fortified position of Lopez on Tebicuary river. The fleet of iron clads had already arrived opposite the entrenchments and commenced a vigorous bombardment.

PARIS, September 13.—The Patrie of yesterday thinks that the report that the Prussian army is to be reduced by one hundred and fifty thousand men, is false.

The Standard says that on leaving camp at Chalons, the Emperor summoned his General officers to his presence. He then thanked them for the zeal they had shown, and said that the days he had passed in camp had given him great pleasure and satisfaction.

The Emperor Napoleon, Empress Eugenie, and the Prince Imperial have left this city, on a visit to Biarritz.

The Bourse last evening closed heavy. Rentes 70 francs 30 centimes.

FRANKFORT, September 13.—Bonds heavy; 5 20s of 1862 last quoted at 75¼-75¾.

The demon who murdered the innocent little girl, Mary Mohrman, is still at large. The police of the Eleventh district of Philadelphia have scoured the neigebornood, and every house where it was thought possible for the monster to secrete himself, has been visited and thoroughly searched; even out houses, barns and factories, have been examined, but as yet no trace of the cold-blooded murderer have been discovered. The detectives have acted slowly in the matter, and their course is severely censured. Great excitement continues in the neighborhood of the murder. The Coroner will commence an inquest in the case to-morrow. The city has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of the murderer.

The San Francisco Bulletin of August 29th, says: "The Central Pacific Railroad is completed to a point 269 miles east of Sacramento, and nearly 400 miles from San Francisco. On the 19th inst., over six miles of track were laid. This beats the best work ever done on the Union Pacific, and we are promised that seven miles shall be laid in one day, if necessary to keep the palm for the California company. Probably at least eight or ten miles of track per day is now being regularly laid by the two companies. Eight days ago, about 717 miles remained to be built betwen the termini of the Central and the Union Pacific. If only six miles of track per day has been laid, this distance is reduced to 669 miles. At this rate of track laying, only 557 miles of staging are necessary to-day. It is safe to assume that there will be at least thirty additional working days before winter sets in, and these will give 180 miles additional of completed track, leaving only 377 miles to be laid next season. Difficult as it is to comprehend the great fact, there seems to be scarcely a doubt that by the 4th of July next the journey from New York to San Francisco may be made entirely by rail."

FUNERAL NOTICE.

WHITMORE—Died, on Sunday, the 13th instant, of congestion, JOSEPH WHITMORE, in the twentieth year of his age.

The funeral will take place this (Monday) evening, at 3 o'clock, from the residence of his mother, four miles south of the city, on the Hernando road.

The remains will be interred at the Winchester Cemetery.

CHANCERY SALE.

Chancery Sale

—OF THE—

OVERTON HOTEL.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Chancery Court of Memphis, entered on the 28th day of February, 1868, for the sum of $58,766 26½, against J. M. Keating, B. B. Waddell and Coleman Boyd, we, the undersigned, Trustees and Commissioners of the said Court, will,

On the 10th Day of October Next,

Between the hours of 10 o'clock and 4, in front of the said Hotel, proceed to sell, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six and twelve months, the said Memphis Overton Hotel and the land on which the same stands, being the following lots, on the plan of the city of Memphis, to-wit: 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, situate on the north west corner of Main and Poplar streets, in the city of Memphis, and embracing the block bounded by said Poplar and Main streets and Center alley, and an alley bounding said property on the north.

Redemption waived by the decree. The successful bidder will be required to execute notes for the purchase money with the most undoubted security before the sale is closed, and on failure, the sale will be continued, reopening on the last preceding bid.

The title is perfect, as we are advised, but we do not personally warrant the same.

THE rain, it raineth every day!

FELIX CROSS continues to lay us under obligations.

THERE were eight arrests made in the Second district up to six o'clock last evening.

A CALM after a storm always. Yesterday the city was as still as a village.

FOR THE SERENADES tendered the APPEAL on Saturday night, from the several bands, we return our thanks.

THE SIDEWALK on the southeast corner of Beal and Main streets is in a horrible condition.

THE way to bother a carpet-bagger is to ask him the name of the sheriff or jailer of the county he migrated from.

SODA and seltzer water were in demand yesterday morning. The town looked decidedly katzenjammerlich, as we Germans say.

THE CHURCHES were but slimly attended yesterday, on account of the inclemency of the weather.

Dress Goods--Dress Goods--The latest styles and all qualities, just received at Rowell, Wood & Co.'s, 332 Main Street. 2t

ST. PETER'S SCHOOL FESTIVAL commences this evening, and continues three days. The charitable can find no better way of spending their money than investing in a ticket.

THE COMMANDERY and a great many Chapters and Scottish Rite Masons left yesterday for St. Louis to participate in the grand conclave which takes place there to-morrow.

TO MR. HAMILTON, agent of the Southern Express, our sincere thanks are returned for files of late Richmond and New Orleans papers.

COL. MCMAHON, formerly the "Nestor of the Memphis Press," now the popular agent of the St. Louis Mutual, arrived home yesterday. He had been absent some weeks.

IKE HOOD'S residence, 154 Hernando street, was broken into on Saturday night and robbed of a suit of clothes and a watch. Ike did not go to church yesterday.

CORRECTION.—We got the name of Sam Creghan in the wrong place in the procession, in our report yesterday morning. It should have been with the Fifth Ward Colored Democratic Club.

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL was, by some strange oversight, omitted in our list of the houses that were illuminated on Saturday night. Why it was overlooked, except that it was right under our eyes, we can not tell. It was certainly not intentional.

LOUIS PARPOLT'S house, on Jefferson street, No. 189½, was entered on Saturday night during the procession and robbed of a lot of bar-room towels and clothing, two watches, some specie and a bolt of cloth.

CENTER alley, between Jefferson and Adams streets, has been impassable for the past two days, on account of the caving in of a sewer. We hope it will not be fixed soon, for as it now is, those abominable "hosses" coe and other heavy wagons cannot go lumbering through there at all hours of the night.

A THIEF went to the house of Mr. Lowery, No. 53 Linden street, on Saturday night, during the procession, but before he got anything, was discovered and compelled to beat a hasty retreat, leaving his hat and boots behind him. Mr. Lowery says he can have them by calling and paying charges on them.

IT is rather curious that the first news received here of the passage of the most infamous and important bill that has ever been passed by the most infamous of Legislatures, at Nashville, should have come by mail. How does the agent of the Associated Press at Nashville manage to amuse himself?

THE Southern Hotel will be fully opened to the travelling public on the 15th instant. It has just been refitted and furnished in every department. The proprietor, J. S. Smith, will keep a first class hotel, at rates reduced from $3 to $2 per day. The planters' patronage is particularly solicited. sep13-1w

AN OLD NEGRO—A resident of Rotten Row, in conversation with another darkey as the procession passed them Saturday night, was heard to remark, "'Fore God! dat ar Judge Lewis mus' gib de ole coman a d—d sight bigger order on Walcott & Small dan he did last time, if he spec dis nigger to buck agin de whole worl!"

THE preparations for the grand picnic of the Sons of Temperance, on Wednesday, 16th inst, are all completed and a gay time is expected. The great contest will be for the gold headed cane to be voted to the most popular political club, and as it will be contested with spirit, all interested had better vote "early and often." See advertisement in another column.

NOTICE.—The Stillman Hall has been leased to the ladies for the Catholic Fair, Monday and Tuesday evenings, by the consent and advice of the officers of the Central Club.

J. M. SCHOOLES,
Chairman Committee on Hall.

In consequence of the above notice there will be no meeting of the Steamboatmen's Club this evening.

A LITTE EXCITEMENT was caused on Adams street, yesterday evening, by hearing a pistol crack two or three times in a certain house, which shall be nameless. A crowd rapidly gathered, but it was soon found that no blood had been spilled, and that the pistol practice proceeded from two ex Confederate soldiers who were interchanging courtesies. They had been drinking together, and one made a remark which irritated the other, and the fusilade was the consequence. "No corda."

A GENERAL ROW occurred Saturday night on Beal street, near the market, between a lot of negroes, in which two were shot and slightly wounded, and one severely cut with a razor. Officer Fox, of the sanitary police, was present and tried to interfere, but being alone and unarmed, save with his club, he was unable to do so. He made one arrest, but his prisoner was rescued. Ferguson is the name of one of the parties who were shot; no other names could be learned. No arrests had been made up to six o'clock yesterday evening. The fuss was all about a woman.

ST. PETER'S SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—Our readers will notice by the advertisement in another column that the festival for the benefit of St. Peter's School commences to-night at the STILLMAN HALL, and not at the schoolhouse, as at first intended. Preparations to make it a most delightful affair have been thoroughly matured, and all visitors may be sure of meeting with a hearty welcome and finding something to please the eye, the ear, the mind and the palate. The Sodality Cornet Band and a string band have been engaged, and will be on hand every evening.

MEMPHIS.

The Politicians of West Tennessee.

Facetious Classification of Well-Known Memphians.

From the New York Tribune, 9th inst.]

MEMPHIS, September 2.—The Democratic politicians of West Tennessee can be divided into three classes. In the first order is the intellectual and educated class, who, though numerically small, are still the power that rules the destinies of the body politic. Instructors and originators of the false and damnable heresies that culminated in rebellion, they are again gathering strength for another contest for political supremacy. While professing to deprecate violence, they are strong in the hope that through shifting of the scenes in the great North they will, by aid of their party, be enabled to once more strut the boards of the Governmental stage, and browbeat the Yankees as in days of yore. Principally professional men, while they have great vanity and some sprightliness of mind, with some rare exceptions, they are not entitled to the term "educated" in its true interpretation. Their attainments are mostly superficial and illustrative of the remark once made of Pitt the younger, "That he knew nothing well except Spencer's Faire Queen." So here, while there are a few brilliant exceptions, there is little true education, and few men learn anything well.

In this class of intelligent men in West Tennessee are found Albert Pike, a carpet bagger from Arkansas; G. K. Monae, carpet-bagger from North Carolina; Ed. Yerger, A. H. Douglas, Van A. W. Anderson, Wm. H. Stephens, Col. Logwood, Humphrey Bate, and others that are prominent. With the exception of Logwood and Stephens, these men and their class are intensely bitter and proscriptive, and at their nightly gatherings on the corner of Second and Madison streets, in Stillman hall, pander to the evil passions of the ignorant by praying that the hour may come, and that soon, in which they can drive every Radical from off their soil, out of their land, etc.

At one speaker in ten but urges this or similarly atrocious views and sentiments upon the people. Not a cheer is ever heard except when sentiments of this character are uttered, and it is only necessary, in order to bring down the house, to denounce of the Yankee carpet-bagger and scalawags, and of the hour that is at hand when they can drive them from the land.

Another peculiarity of these political leaders that is observable to all Northern men is that their most celebrated speakers rarely or never discuss principles, but confine themselves to men. They are lacking in either the capacity or the honesty to take broad and comprehensive grounds, and base their line of action on moral principles or right. They all grovel in the earth, and, to use a familiar expression, spend their time in throwing mud. Matt Galaway, the most prominent of these, by taking the time from instructions received from the North, makes no reports of these speeches, or at best out a garbled one, with a view of inducing the South until the Wolf is in a position to show them—in dottom. In the second class are found such men as Matt Galaway, Gen. Forrest, John Slate, Jave Haskil, B. N. Smith, and many others of like ilk. These men are the representatives of a large and powerful element in the body politic. Those who, intensely bitter in their sectional hatred, can see no good in aught that represents the Government as at present constituted, have an insane hatred of anything and everything savoring of Negro-philanism, and a holy horror of Yankee carpet-baggers in general. Those who, degradingly unfaithful themselves, foolishly imagine the Yankees are an inferior race of beings who believe the war only ceased as a matter of policy and not of necessity, and insanely think they might win in another trial of strength; and, finally, the great mass of those who, reading little or nothing for themselves, have inferior minds of their own, and are, therefore, fit tools to be led by appeals to their proscriptive hatreds and prejudices; who look upon it as high treason to read aught emanating from the North, and follow blindly in the path laid out before them. Blessed with little education, these representatives are generally easily recognized by their animal developments; they have a coarse, swaggering air and ponder to the lowest and most depraved appetites of the "Canaille."

The third and last class of these Democratic politicians, those most bitter in denunciations of Republicans, and most active in measures tending to anarchy and violence are generally broken down party hacks, young and unthinking sprigs of a defunct aristocracy who, too proud and lazy to work, are fond of promoting dissension and strife about they know not what, but foolishly imagine to be something in imitation of "Southern Chivalry," the hordes of gamblers, rougns, and "no'er do weels," so prominent in southern cities, and those most older and unthinking of all races, those who, though bled at home, while their dearmore honorable friends were in the field.

TURTLE SOUP! TURTLE SOUP!!—Vetter Dreissacker's lunches have become famous, for he always has the very best to eat and drink, and each serves out so frequently that Aldermanic luxury, TURTLE SOUP. His wines and liquors are unexceptionable and his beer can't be beat. His barkeepers understand their business, and his guests make themselves at home. Call at the Monroe Exchange, No. 58 Monroe street, if you don't believe it, to-morrow at ten o'clock, and we will satisfy you.

CLOUGLE REFINING PROCESS.—There will be an exhibition of the celebrated Clougle Refining Process, in the Chamber of Commerce at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Monday, at 12 m., by Mr. M. Day, Jr., of the well-known Agricultural Implement Manufactories of Hymyn, Day & Co., Mansfield, Ohio, and Blymyn, Norton & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Day has been conducting some experiments for several days past at the store of Orgill Bros. & Co. Old Sorghum Syrup has been refined and brought out with a brilliance and flavor equaling Belcher's or Stuart's golden syrup, while some raw juice refined on Saturday surpassed in color and delicacy of taste the finest syrups we have ever seen. It was of a very light whitish golden color, and so transparent that a newspaper could easily be read through a good sized bottle full of it.

It is the desire of some of our citizens that a large Commercial Refinery be started upon this plan, at this point, and we hope our business men will give the Process a careful examination with this in view, for there is no better point upon the river, or in the United States, for such an establishment. West Tennessee, Northern Mississippi and Eastern Arkansas, could raise sorghum enough for a dozen refineries, and the Louisiana syrups are within easy reach, so that a refinery of any magnitude can be kept busily employed.

We are assured that the expense of refining by this Process is materially reduced—at least one-half to two-thirds—and the outfit is comparatively insignificant. We bespeak a full meeting of the Board. sep13 2t

PROVIDING FOR THE FUTURE.—One of the striking elements of modern civilization, is the encouragement given to those who are desirous of making provision for the future. Institutions are already numerous, so guarded by legal wisdom that if there is safety in anything which the Legislature has created, savings banks, trust companies, and life insurance offices are sustained by the strongest enactments that ever emanated from the representatives of the people.

But with all the excellencies which characize the two first, the superior claims of life insurance investments are admitted without hesitation. Their stability is a strong feature. The rapid accumulation of income which is only gathered to be distributed with a moral certainty of reaching those for whom it is specifically designed, far outweighs all former plans in the world's history.

Life insurance is predicted upon vital laws, guided by the strictest rules of scientific investigation, so that if there is a real risk it is on the part of the institution granting the policy, and not a hazard of the person who receives it. In consequence of a true and positively increasing cash capital, the company can risk more than a single individual. One is perpetually increasing its resources, while the latter is sure of receiving at stipulated periods, either for himself, his wife, or child, sums that may gladden the heart when dark clouds of adversity are most threatening in their aspect. Read the transactions of the ST. LOUIS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE OFFICE (which will be cheerfully furnished by its Agents in this city, Messrs. McMahon & Otis,) has developed into colossal proportions in a comparatively short period, in consequence of a strict adherence to the principles of equity which have invariably characterized all its business relations. It is not necessary to spread out broad tables of figures to demonstrate its prosperity. Faithful agents and an intelligent community are the instrumentalities by which it moves onward, securely, and with an expectation of those to whom its administration is confided, of contributing largely to the comfort of this generation, and to the happiness of its patrons in succeeding ages.

A Sense of Security.

A shudder of horror pervaded the crew,
The tempest so raged and the hurricane blew;
With a crash went the masts by a blast of the gale,
That swept away rudder, the rigging and sail,
When they screamed in alarm to Paddy below,
To send from the steerage, there was a terrible blow:
Stop your pother, cried Pat, up there on the deck,
I'll not stir from here at the risk of my neck;
Let her go to the bottom, I'll stop till she floats;
But you, you scared lubbers, may take to the boats.
While the whisky holds out there is nothing to fear
If she don't rise again till this time next year.
I'm entirely safe, my baggage secured,
The passage is paid, and my life is insured!

DEAD FOR A DUCAT.

Another Grant Voter Sent Up while in Pursuit of a Lawful Radical Vocation.

"Fort Pickering is all right," says the Post, "it is sure to go for Grant." Of course it is all right. Several luminaries, and a host of minor lights of Radicalism live thereabouts, and the Fort itself is a stronghold of the party, being settled up densely with negroes. This fact is sufficient prelude to any tale of blood or rascality that might be told about it, and without further circumlocution we will tell how a Grant voter got rubbed out there on Friday night.

Mr. Wm. Dwyer, who lives in the neighborhood of the Fort, heard his dog making a tremendous racket about midnight, and on arising, arming himself, and going out he discovered a huge Grant voter just about escaping from his patch with an armful of truck. A shot from an army musket brought the marauder to the ground, where he lay.

Yesterday morning the Coroner was notified of the fact and held an inquest on the body, and returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

NEW PAVEMENT.

Concrete Gravel vs. Nicholson Blocks.

An old citizen sends us the following communication, which we cheerfully find a place for. None of the communications referred to as having been sent us have come to hand. Attention is called to this:

PADUCAH, September 8, 18 8.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

I have sent you two or three communications in regard to the concrete gravel that the Memphis and Charleston Railroad proposes furnishing the city of Memphis to pave the streets with, instead of green wood at large prices, which the contractors could afford to pay Aldermen to vote for such lucrative contracts as your paper gave putlicity to two days ago.

I have examined upwards of three miles of this concrete pavement, this morning, in this city. Some of it has been put down seventeen years ago and is in fine order now and one of the Aldermen told me they had not expended over three hundred dollars for all the repairs ever put on it, and it bids fair to last for years and years, yea, fifty years.

The citizens of Memphis can see the same pavement at the Memphis and Charleston Depot, in their city, though it has not stood so long.

Why the Aldermen persist in putting in green wood, which they know cannot last long when they can get this gravel which is so durable, and at one-half the price, I cannot see. P. M.

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH.—On Wednesday next, the Junior Department (the only one yet organized) of this University will open under the supervision of Gen. J. Gorgas, a distinguished graduate of West Point, and well known for his high scientific attainments and administrative abilities, as Head Master, assisted by Prof. Dabney of Virginia, and other competent instructors. From the circular of the institution, we clip the following: Desiring to make the school self-supporting, the trustees have fixed upon the sum of $300 per year to cover all charges except matriculation fee, ($10 paid on entering only), and medical attendance. Sons of the clergy will be received at reduced rates of tuition, and young men designing to study for the ministry will be received free of tuition as soon as funds are provided for that purpose. This institution was founded and will be carried on by the joint action of the Dioceses of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, and is intended to provide in an especial manner for the moral and religious training of its pupils, while it will at the same time embrace a thorough course of study. The location, upon the plateau of the Cumberland mountain range, at Sewanee, accessible by daily railway communication, is too well known to require a special description. It is sufficient to say that it is not surpassed on this continent for beauty of scenery, accessibility, equal temperature, pure, cool water, and healthful influences. Possessing a domain of nearly two thousand acres, the trustees have the power of keeping at a safe distance all temptation to dissipation in any of its forms. Its lands, extending for miles around, bounded by the precipitous sides of the plateau, surrounded by a fertile, populous and productive country, and yet separated from it by a thousand feet of elevation, retirement is secured without isolation, and healthful recreation will surround the students on every side, and the love of the pure and the beautiful will naturally be implanted and grow in their hearts and minds. Every member of the Faculty is a communicant of the church, and the school will be carried on upon the true principles of christian culture, and will aim to send forth its sons educated, refined and christian gentlemen.

TO CHARITABLE LADIES.—The attention of the lady readers of the APPEAL, all of whom we presume to be of the most charitable class, is called to this communication handed us, for publication this morning, by one of our oldest physicians, who has done his whole duty by these really deserving objects of charity. We understand they are members, in good standing, of the Baptist Church:

Editors Appeal: Will you allow me, through your valuable paper, to inform the humane and charitable among our citizens, that there are several destitute widows in the front wing of the Commercial Hotel, fourth story, near the alley, who are willing to sew, nurse, or do housework, for bread and shelter. One of these lost her husband in the Confederate army, is a member of one of our churches, has been ill, and will soon be confined. Is there no Samaritan in the city to see after this case? or will not the Mayor provide for it? Something must be done quickly. Call on the Messrs. Allen, of the Hotel.

LINDEN STREET CHRISTIAN CHURCH. Elder Caskey preached his farewell discourse to the Linden street Christian Church last Sunday night. We understand the congregation have a balance of old indebtedness for their house, upon them, which they have determined to reduce before incurring further pastoral expense. Elder Caskey's labors have been most pleasant and profitable among his brethren, and they part with him in pain and sadness. While in our city, he held front rank for zeal and ability in his calling. We wish him abundant success in any new field of labor, and hope soon to welcome him back to our midst. His farewell discourse will, we understand, be published.

DRY GOODS—Our stock of fancy and staple Dry Goods are being received every day—Rowell, Wood & Co., 332 Main Street. 2t

MACKERELS.—These little pests who settle in the vicinity of much frequented streets, block the sidewalks and hinder business, should be taken charge of; at least they should be kept off the more public streets. Get back, Mackerels, get back.

BEGGARS.—Some provision should be made to save the citizens from the annoyance of importunate and impudent beggars. What can the police do? Let us see.

An immense stock of flannels, all colors, all prices, and very cheap, just received at Rowell, Wood & Co.'s Southern Palace. 2t

THE weather, which was equally enough during the morning, cleared off towards evening yesterday and gave us another gorgeous sunset.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

MEMPHIS, September 14.—We have had rain continually for the last three or four days, interspersed with an occasional burst of sunshine, but the latter has been very chary of its presence. The damage to the coming crop has been very great indeed. The river here is rising quite fast, and last reports give nine feet large to Cairo. The Arkansas is rising, with a good stage of water to Fort Smith. All the upper rivers are swelling.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The landing was not attractive yesterday, and little of anything occurred upon it worthy of mention.

Capt. John D. Adams leaves for the Arkansas this morning. His pair of new steamers will be ready in a very few weeks for business. One of them will be an elegant passenger packet, while the other will be a complete freight boat in every respect. Capt. Adams will run the boats throughout the season with the same punctuality which characterised them last year and by which he secured a very large trade for Memphis merchants.

The Natoma, Capt. Jim Lee, backs out this evening for Napoleon and all way points. At the mouth she connects with the Ozark, Capt. Nowland, for Pine Bluff and Little Rock. Duffy Fields, Sterling Whitehead and Stack Lee, are clerks of the Natoma.

The elegant steamer Belle Memphis, Capt. Crane, with Bienker at the desk, backs out today at 5 p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Monte Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, gets away to-morrow evening for all points on the St. Francis.

The Belle Lee will pass down on Thursday for New Orleans.

The great Magenta leaves Cairo this evening, and will be in port to-morrow. She will back out on Wednesday for Vicksburg and New Orleans, taking all way freights.

Maj. Mart. Wait returned on Saturday evening from a visit to St. Louis and other points north, where he has laid in a stock of boat stores never surpassed in this market.

The Des Arc, Captain John Elliott, with Mr. Jo. Elliott in the office, and President Glass as his assistant, will leave for White river to-morrow at 5 p.m.

The United States mail packet Liberty No. 2, Captain Jim Rice, will be in port to-day, and will leave to-morrow for her old haunts along White river. Mill. Harry and Charley Sharpe are her clerks.

A coal boat tire is reported at Pittsburg.

Cincinnati will organize a weekly line of packets to the Tennessee river, consisting of the Abeona and Kate Robinson.

It is reported that Mr. Smedley, of Paducah, has sold his one-half interest in the Fannie Brandeis to Commodore Hughes, of Nashville, for $2000.

The bids for the improvement of the Tennessee river, for which Congress last year made an appropriation of $115,000, were opened on Wednesday, and the award will be made at an early day.

The Louisville loads at St. Louis this week for New Orleans.

The W. R. Arthur has been taken to the ways at St. Louis, for the purpose of undergoing extensive repairs. She is to be thoroughly overhauled, and will receive new deck floors, be repainted and fitted up in splendid order for a winter campaign.

JOHN D. ELLIOTT, Master; CAD. J. HANKS and MAT GLASS, Clerks.

THE steamer DES ARC having been put in thorough repair, will enter the MEMPHIS AND WHITE RIVER TRADE permanently on THURSDAY, the 3d day of September, 1868, leaving Memphis every Thursday for all points on White and Little Red rivers, connecting at Devall's Bluff with trains for Little Rock. Leaves Devall's Bluff for Memphis every Monday on arrival of train.

NOTICE.—To the Merchants of Memphis—The steamer DES ARC will resume her trips in the White River Trade on Thursday, the 3d day of September, 1868, and as I am satisfied that it is the wish of both the planter and merchant that the local packets receive and transport merchandise on which there is C. O. D. charges, and in view of the fact that the refusal to transport such freight has operated very much against the trade of Memphis, the steamer DES ARC (a home packet, owned and controlled in Memphis) will, on resuming her trips, receive all C. O. D. freight, and collect free of charge.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, September 12, 1868.

The weather continues wet, and the damage to the crop is almost incalculable. Rot and the worm will, we fear, cause the yield to be lighter than even the lowest estimate made as yet. From all sections the reports are of a doleful character, and in some sections the whole crop has been destroyed. From the islands, the news is equally discouraging, and the sea island crop will prove a failure. Information from the sections where the long staple cotton is growing, gives a sad picture of the ravages of the caterpillar, and the prospects are that the damage to this season will be as great as on any previous occasion.

General business has been set back by the weather, and our merchants are far from being as hopeful as they were ten days ago. Many of them who contemplated going North for goods have delayed their departure to see what the next few days has in store for us.

Money matters are not at all active. The demand for mercantile purposes has fallen off as the weather became unfavorable, and our banks do not show the same disposition to come forward with assistance which they evinced only a short time back. The future, in fact, has lost very much of the hopeful appearance it but recently bore, and our merchants are now very nearly as despondent as they were before full of hope.

The best demand for City Bonds comes from capitalists of Baltimore. They have examined thoroughly into the condition of our city finances, and are not slow to invest in our securities. A broker to-day filled an order for $20,000 at 50c on Baltimore account. This is the largest sale of the week, we believe, but the rate is lower by ½c than those of other sales.

Other stocks and bonds are dull and nominal. A lot of Memphis and Charleston stock was offered, but we did not hear that it changed hands nor the price asked.

City Scrip is in some demand, but the offerings are slight. Brokers are at variance in their rates, some buying at 72c, while others are bidding 75@74c. Selling at 76@80c, as to amount.

County Warrants are steady with no demand except in a small way. Buying at 65c. Selling at 69@70c.

Police Scrip is firm at 77@78c buying. Selling at 80c.

Gold opened in New York at 141¾, and closed at 141¾. We quote a few sales of a trivial character at 142@142¼.

No outside demand.

The New York Stock Board quotations were at noon to day as follows: Old Tennessee bonds, 70¾; new, 69¾; 5-20s, coupons of '81, 14¾; '82, 12½; '64, 9½; '65, 10¾; new issue, 9; '67, 8¾; '68, 10 9-10s, coupons, 10¾. Bonds, dull.

Counterfeit tens on the Saratoga County National Bank, Waterford, N. Y., are in circulation. They are poorly executed, and have been subjected to some process to give an appearance of having been some time in circulation. The following counterfeits are also announced: Tens on the First National Bank of Red Hook, N. Y.; twenties raised from fives, on the Consolidation National Bank of Philadelphia, Penn.; fives on the First National Bank of Louisville, Ky.; tens raised to fifties, on the Tioga National Bank, Oswego, N. Y.; fives on the First National Bank of Boston, Mass.; tens on the First National Bank of Elmira, N. Y.; hundreds on the Central National Bank of New York City; twenties on the First National Bank of Indianapolis, Ind.; tens on the Second National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio; tens on the Merchants' National Bank of New York City; tens on the National Exchange Bank of Lockport, N. Y.; twenties on the Concord National Bank of Concord Mass.

There were sales of 10,000 bales cotton to-day in Liverpool, though it was a holiday; Uplands were quoted at 10¾d, Orleans 10¾d.

At noon, in New York, cotton was very dull and accurate quotations could not be given; Middlings were nominally 28c, but Uplands were offered at 25c to arrive within a week. The market closed dull and nominal. Week's receipts, 123 bales; gross, 3270; week's sales, 7500 bales; stock, 12,000 bales; week's receipts at all U. S. ports, 11,000 bales; exports, 1800 bales.

Among the sales to-day we report three bales Middlings 24c, one bale do, 25c, three bales Middlings 24½c, three do. 25c, three bales (old) Ordinary 21c.

The first bale of new cotton from "Old Hardeman," Tennessee, was received yesterday by Guy, McClellan, & Co. It was raised by J. H. McClelland, Esq., near Saulsbury, classed Middling and sold for twenty-five cents.

The Macon Messenger of a late date says:

The news from many portions of Middle Georgia and the Black belt is gloomy enough. The late rains have played sad havoc with the cotton. In some few sections there will be a fair yield, but the planters most universally say that the crop will fall short of last year's yield. The rust, the worm, and the rot are at work destroying it. It seems the rains will never stop. The last month, August, was the most unfavorable ever known. Only a few days remain now in which the crop will do what it is going to. The season always closes between the 10th and the 15th of September. After that it matters not what sort of weather we have. The crop will be either made or lost. The crop in Georgia will fall short of about 15,000 bales. Our only hope now is to make up in price what we will lose in quantity.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

WOLFE'S
Schiedam Schnapps.

THE above Medicinal Beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at his distillery, in Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use.

It is now some twenty years since the proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over three thousand letters from physicians, indorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper-berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effect produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South, and Southwest are peculiarly liable—the SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS will be found absolutely infallible; while in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

COTTON GINS.

EAGLE COTTON GINS.
WE are the Sole Agents for the sale of these unrivalled Gin Stands. For beauty of STAPLE, LIGHTNESS OF DRAFT, AND QUANTITY OF LINT COTTON turned out per day, they are unsurpassed. Reference can be safely made to every planter who has given them a fair trial. Where mule power is used, they make a saving of from one-quarter to one-third the draft over ANY OTHER GIN. We are also Agents for STRAUB'S GRIST MILLS, and WHEEL ELS, CLEMSON & CO.'S CIRCULAR SAWS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin
THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Harrington & Howell's, 288 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:
"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.
"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect.
A. N. GUNNISON."
Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Rib, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of PARHAM, NORTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skilful Gin wright. G. W. THURBAKI.
